HUNTER EDUCATION REQUIREMENT

Hunter Education is required for hunters born AFTER January 1, 1986, and intending to hunt in Units 7, 13-15, and 20.

- 16 years old or older, must have successfully completed a certified hunter education course.
- Under 16 years old;
 - a) successfully completed a certified hunter education course, or
 - b) hunt under the direct immediate supervision of a licensed hunter who has successfully completed a certified hunter education course.

PERMIT HUNT CONDITIONS

Permits are not transferable to another person.

Permits, valid hunting licenses and, if appropriate, big game locking tags must be in the possession of hunters while hunting. Alaska residents 15 years of age and younger are not required to have a hunting license.

Additional conditions may be listed under the description of each hunt.

OTHER HUNTING OPPORTUNITIES

In addition to Tier II Permit Hunts, there are Registration Permit Hunts where typically an unlimited number of hunters may apply and receive permits but where the season may be closed by Emergency Order if the harvest quota is reached. There are also Drawing Permit Hunts in which only a limited number of people may participate and are chosen by lottery. Information concerning these two types of permit hunts can be found in the Alaska State Hunting Regulations and in the two Drawing Permit Hunt Supplements. In addition to these three types of state permit hunts (Tier II, Registration and Drawing), there are general hunting seasons which do not require a permit, but may require a harvest ticket/report. Refer to the Alaska State Hunting Regulations book for information about such hunts.

Federal subsistence hunts on federal lands are scheduled for a number of locations in the state. Hunters should refer to federal regulations or contact U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Anchorage (phone 1-800-478-1456) for information concerning such hunts and who may participate.

Under state law all Alaska residents are eligible for subsistence hunting of game populations where subsistence use occurs.

If the harvestable portion of a game population is not sufficient to provide a reasonable opportunity for all subsistence uses, the Board of Game shall distinguish among subsistence users, through limitations based on:

- The customary and direct dependence on the game population by the subsistence user for human consumption as a mainstay of livelihood, and;
- The ability of the subsistence user to obtain food if subsistence use is restricted or eliminated.

POINT SCORING

Each Tier II application is scored on the basis of the information provided by the applicant. Answers may be subject to verification. A total of up to 100 points is possible.

There are 5 questions (14-18) on the application that are used for scoring:

14. Up to 50 points are awarded for the number of years the applicant has hunted or eaten meat from the game population in the hunt area. One point is awarded for each year.
15. Up to 10 points are awarded for the number of years any one member of the household has hunted or eaten meat from the game population in the hunt area. One-fifth of a point is awarded for each year.
16. Up to 20 points are awarded for the relative availability of alternative sources of big game. This is measured by developing a ratio of the amount of meat harvested from the Tier II population and the total amount of big game meat harvested by all household members over the past 5 years anywhere within the state of Alaska. Points received may not exceed the points calculated by the department for the community nearest the applicant's address.
17. Up to 10 points are awarded for the cost of food in the community where most of the applicant's household store-bought food was purchased during the past year. Points received may not exceed the points calculated by the department using the cost-of-food index for the community nearest the applicant's residence.
18. Up to 10 points are awarded for the cost of automotive fuel in the community where most of the applicant's household automotive fuel was purchased during the past year. Points received may not exceed the points calculated by the department using the cost of automotive fuel for the community nearest the applicant's residence.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Do only Alaska Residents qualify to apply for Tier II subsistence permits? Yes. Only Alaska residents qualify for Tier II permits. A resident for Tier II means a person who has continually maintained his or her permanent home in Alaska for 365 days preceding the start of the Tier II hunt of interest. Members of the military services and their dependents who have been stationed in the state for the preceding 12 consecutive months are also residents for Tier II purposes.

2. How is it determined who gets the Tier II permits? Each application is scored on 5 questions. Permits for a specific hunt are issued starting at the highest overall score and working downward until all permits are issued.

3. Will the information I give be verified? Yes. Any application which appears to include false information will be investigated. Applications shown to include false information will be submitted to the Alaska Bureau of Wildlife Enforcement for citation and prosecution.

4. How many Tier II permits may an individual be awarded? Only one Tier II permit per species may be awarded. Therefore, it is important that those applying for more than one hunt for the same species identify whether a hunt is their first, second, third, etc. choice for that species. If more individuals in a household are eligible for permits based on their score than can be allowed, the highest scoring individual(s) in the household will be awarded permit(s). When more than one household member applies for Tier II hunts, household applicants must be listed on each application. If you are awarded caribou or moose permits, you may register a proxy hunter to hunt for you if you are blind, 70% physically disabled or over 65 years of age.

5. Can I have both a drawing permit and a Tier II permit for the same species? Yes. A person can be selected for a drawing permit and also be awarded a Tier II permit for the same species. However an individuals bag limit does not increase. Upon harvesting an animal under one permit, the other permit automatically becomes invalid. The drawing and Tier II permit systems are separate processes and your application for receiving a permit in one system does not affect your opportunity to apply or receive a permit in the other.

6. Is there any difference in my chances of receiving a permit for my first choice hunt as opposed to my second or third choices? No. Each hunt is scored independently. If you qualify for more than one permit for a given species, you will receive the permit for the hunt which you indicated was your highest preference. If you do not identify a preference, you will receive a permit for the hunt in which you receive the highest score

7. If I qualify for a permit for one species, does that effect my opportunity to receive a permit for another species? No. Each hunt is scored independently. Your potential to qualify for a permit is dependent upon your score in relation to the scores of other applicants for the same hunt.

8. I can't remember how many years I hunted or applied for a permit hunt in order to fill out question 14. Can I ask Fish and Game for a listing of my hunting history?

With exceptions (see below), the Department is not prepared to search its records and assist applicants on their past hunting and application history. Answer the question to the best of your knowledge.
